

In spite of the influence of modern industrial society, Balzers has also tried to maintain its traditions. The restored chapel of St. Peter is one of the examples.

