

zenship and national state" is subject to a felicitous supplementation and continuation in the words "world citizenship and small states". Today's "constitutional states world hour" also sheds light on the small state as a constitutional state. It steps out of the shadow of the bigger states. Small states like Liechtenstein can assume a pioneering role even beyond Europe and may begin an "epoch of small states", not least in the common European legal culture.