

An aerial, black and white photograph of a valley. A wide river flows through the center, flanked by dense forests. The valley floor is divided into numerous agricultural fields of varying sizes, some with distinct patterns. In the background, a range of rugged mountains with rocky peaks and some snow patches stretches across the horizon under a clear sky.

III. Einstellungen – Kultur – Menschen