

2.1.7. Handhabung von Sammelgut in der Nationalbibliothek von Wales
Collecting procedures National Library of Wales

Please mark X where appropriate.

'Active Collection' means that the library requests the publications.

'Passive Collection' means that the library receives the publications, even if delivered unrequested.

		Active and passive Collection	Only passive Collection	Creating a copy in the catalogues	Comments
	Hard copy items
1.1	Printed books	x			„book“  1.3.a (page 1).
1.2	Newspapers	x			„newspaper“  1.3.a (page 1). „An extensive selection of newspapers can be seen in the Library, from Welsh papers to British publications and beyond” http://www.llgc.org.uk/index.php?id=printedmaterials [27.10.2013].
1.3	Journals	x			„magazine“  1.3.a (page 1). „The Library’s periodical holdings are significant and extensive. They include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • academic periodicals • popular recreational journals • children’s magazines • comics and fanzines “ http://www.llgc.org.uk/index.php?id=printedmaterials [27.10.2013].
1.4.1	University (BA): Bachelor theses
1.4.2	University (MA): master's theses
1.4.3	Theses (PhD): Dissertations	x			„The Theses Collection Wales includes approximately 50,000 theses and dissertations which have been presented for postgraduate degrees in higher educational institutions (HEIs) in Wales” http://www.llgc.org.uk/index.php?id=4653 [27.10.2013].
1.5	Extracts from books	x			„a part of any such work” http://www.llgc.org.uk/index.php?id=6188 [27.10.2013].
1.6	Extracts from journals	x			„a part of any such work” http://www.llgc.org.uk/index.php?id=6188 [27.10.2013].
1.7	Extracts from newspapers	x			„a part of any such work” http://www.llgc.org.uk/index.php?id=6188 [27.10.2013].