

		Active and passive Collection	Only passive Collection	Creating a copy in the catalogues	Comments
2.3	Magnetic tapes	x			See comment 2.2
2.4	VHS video cassettes	x			See comment 2.2 The National Screen and Sound Archive of Wales is a part of the National Library. There is a link from http://www.llgc.org.uk/index.php?id=sound [27.10.2013] to http://www.archif.com/ [27.10.2013].
2.5	Disks (CD, CD ROM, DVD, Blu-Ray)	x			„the obligation to deliver off line work (physical items such as CD ROMs) to deposit libraries”* (section 2.3), p. 6. „A copy of every off line work (i.e. work which is not accessed or delivered by means of the internet and is recorded in a physical form such as a CD ROM, DVD or microform4) is required to be delivered to the British Library within one month of publication. The other deposit libraries are entitled to a copy of any off line work which they request. A request must be made within 12 months of publication and delivery must be within one month of publication or the request, whichever the later” * (section 3.2), p. 8.
	Electronically readable documents -bearer-independent
3.1	E books	x		x	„ including e-books“ * (section 3.3), p. 8. „A deposit library may make and supply for use on its premises accessible copies of relevant material for a visually impaired person if copies of the relevant material are not commercially available in a form that is accessible to the visually impaired person” The Legal Deposit Libraries (Non-Print Works) Regulations 2013. 5th April 2013. Online at: http://www.legislation.gov.uk/ukxi/2013/777/pdfs/ukxi_20130777_en.pdf article 26 (1), page 8 [27.10.2013]. „From 6 April 2013, legal deposit also covers material published electronically, so that the Legal Deposit Libraries can maintain a national collection of e-journals, e-books, digitally published news, magazines and other types of content” http://www.llgc.org.uk/index.php?id=6193 [27.10.2013].
3.2	Books-on-demand (web publishing)	x			„From 6 April 2013, legal deposit also covers material published electronically, so that the Legal Deposit Libraries can maintain a national collection of e-journals, e-books, digitally published news, magazines and other types of content” http://www.llgc.org.uk/index.php?id=6193 [27.10.2013]. „A publisher must also deliver a copy of any computer programs, tools, manuals and information—such as metadata, login details, and a means of removing individual DRM technical protection measures—that are necessary